

Splendor Ahead

IT IS there—It is there:
The splendor ever before us,
Though the valley be dark,
And the way be long and far.
God will not fail
To send his morning sunrise,
Nor will He fail
To light His evening star.
And though tomorrow may seem
Too dark for facing,
God will be in tomorrow,
He will be there:
A light ahead, a radiance and a glory
Moving before us through the golden air.
